A show to move, to laugh, to dance.

XENIA TARTARI

She began her artistic career at the age of 14, dancing tap dance. The following year, she discovered her passion for dance and musical theater, which led her to enroll in the National School of Dance in Buenos Aires and later in the National Institute of Fine Arts to study musical theater.

In 2004, she participated in a circus musical, which awakened her love for the circus, and she enrolled in the Criollo Circus School in Argentina. Two years later, she travelled to New York to perfect her tap dance skills.

Throughout her life, Xenia has developed her professional career as a multidisciplinary artist in various fields of the performing arts, such as direction, choreography, and performance at all kinds of events and festivals around the world
